Deep wood tones and a clean pedestal form give the Commerce & Market Chit Chat Table a warm, grounded presence designed around the way people gather today. Slightly taller than a traditional coffee table, its generous 42 inch round shape creates a comfortable setting for conversation, casual entertaining, and everyday moments throughout the home. The Worn Saddle finish is deep and burnished, drawing inspiration from the supple leather of well loved armchairs and hand tooled heirlooms. Its warm brown coloration gives the table depth and character, creating an established look that pairs easily with a variety of furnishings, materials, and color palettes. A streamlined pedestal base supports the spacious round top, creating an open silhouette with plenty of room to gather around the table. The elevated chat table height provides a versatile surface for drinks, appetizers, games, or other casual activities while offering a more relaxed alternative to traditional dining.
