Organic materials and a clean, sculptural profile give the Commerce & Market Travis End Table an easy sense of style beside a sofa or lounge chair. Its compact 24 inch round shape combines natural stone with light finished oak, creating a versatile accent with warmth, character, and a fresh contemporary feel. An inset stone top features natural variations of beige, cream, and brown, giving each table its own distinctive appearance. The softly varied tones complement the light oak finish below, creating a layered neutral palette that works beautifully with a wide range of colors, textures, and furnishings. A pedestal style base gives the table a grounded, sculptural presence while maintaining a simple silhouette. The round top provides convenient surface space for a lamp, drink, book, or decorative accent, making the table an easy addition to living room seating arrangements.
