Natural materials and generous proportions give the Commerce & Market Travis Cocktail Table an inviting presence at the center of the living room. Its 48 inch round silhouette pairs a substantial inset stone top with a streamlined pedestal base, creating a fresh, versatile centerpiece with a relaxed modern point of view. The inset stone top features natural variations of beige, cream, and brown, bringing organic movement and individual character to the expansive surface. A light oak finish on the base complements the warm coloration of the stone, creating a layered neutral palette that feels easy to incorporate into a variety of interiors. A pedestal style base gives the table a strong, sculptural foundation while maintaining a clean and uncomplicated silhouette. The generous round top provides ample surface space for serving, styling, and the everyday essentials that naturally gather around a living room seating area.
