With its graceful proportions and thoughtfully appointed storage, the Cashiers Dresser brings the quiet sophistication of a well furnished country residence to the bedroom. A distinctive gallery rail frames the top with an architectural finishing detail, while the generous seven drawer design offers abundant storage within a silhouette that feels refined and beautifully composed. European Oak veneers in the light Almond finish reveal the wood's natural grain, knots, and subtle texture, giving the dresser an inviting sense of warmth and organic character. Textured aged brass bar hardware provides a handsome complement to the softly finished wood, adding depth and distinction to the drawer fronts. Seven drawers offer ample space for clothing and personal belongings, with cedar lined bottom drawers providing a thoughtful upgrade for storing garments and linens. A jewelry tray creates a dedicated place for smaller valuables and accessories, bringing an additional layer of organization to the dresser's carefully considered interior.
