FireBall MP-200 Digital Media Player

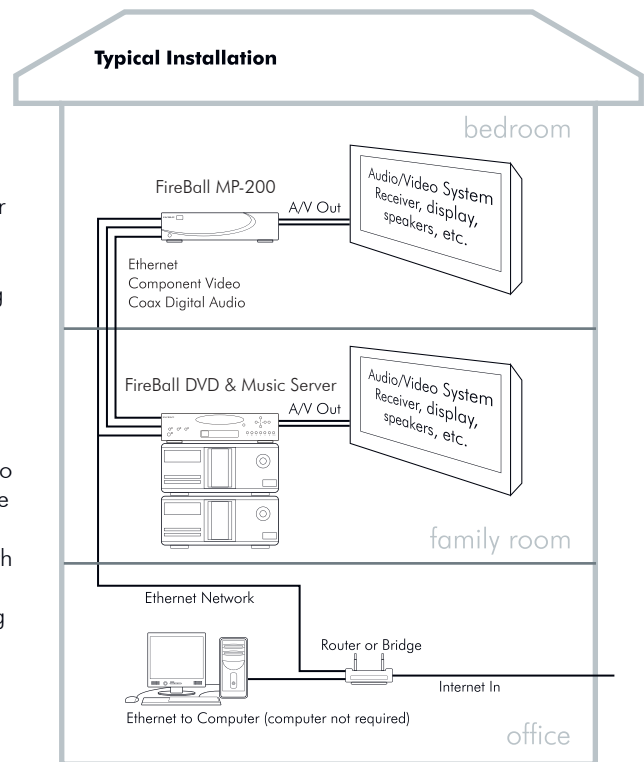

The ultimate companion product to Escent's award winning FireBall DVD and Music Managers, the MP-200 allows you to remotely manage, browse, and play DVDs, CDs, and digital music from multiple rooms in your home. The FireBall MP-200 provides an independent on-screen TV user interface, remote control, and CD quality digital audio output to any room in your home. When connected to any of Escent's multi-zone FireBall Digital Media Managers, you can play DVDs in two different rooms simultaneously!

MUSIC PLAYER FEATURES

- Remote Video Player – manage, browse, and watch any DVD in a second room when connected to a multi-zone FireBall
- Network Music Player – play digital music from FireBall Music servers or directly from a PC
- Digital not Analog – unlike everyone else's line level outputs, the MP-200 gets a 100% digital music stream
- Independent User Interface and Control – each room gets to browse, select, and play different music independent of the music server
- Whole House Audio – play MP3 or CD quality (FLAC) digital audio in any room of your house
- Wired or Wireless Audio – built-in 10/100base T Ethernet networking or connect wireless Ethernet adapters
- Gapless Audio Playback – no more gaps between tracks when you play classical or live CDs
- Fully Customizable – create and edit your own Playlists, Genres, and Internet Radio Stations
- Free WMA and Shoutcast Internet Radio – high quality Internet Radio stations updated automatically using the Escent RadioDB Tuning Service
- On-screen Graphical User Interface – often imitated, but never duplicated, simply the best interface around can now be customized with personalized backgrounds to match any décor
- Web Server and PDA Interface – remote control and music streaming from any standard web browser or PDA
- FireBall-PC – support for browsing and playing music stored on PC or Mac
- Sophisticated Control Interface – extensive two way control enables endless integration possibilities with Crestron, AMX and other home automation and third party remote control systems
